The proofs of our main classification results (Theorems 6.3.1.1, 8.4.5, and 9.2.1) require understanding isomorphisms among pseudo-reductive groups, so we now establish a version of the Isomorphism Theorem for pseudo-split pseudoreductive groups.

Over imperfect fields of characteristics 2 and 3 there are some extra pseudo-reductive groups (called exotic) coming from the existence of exceptional isogenies between groups of types B and C in characteristic 2, between groups of type F in characteristic 2, and between groups of type G in characteristic 3, using a construction analogous to that of the Ree groups.

Every smooth connected affine k -group G is generated by $D(G)$ and a single Cartan k -subgroup. Since $D(G)$ is pseudo-semisimple when G is pseudoreductive [CGP, Prop. 1.2.6], and Cartan k -subgroups of pseudo-reductive k -groups are commutative and pseudo-reductive, the main work in describing pseudo-reductive groups lies in the pseudo-semisimple case.
