John Gielgud: Matinee Idol to Movie Star - New Statesman

Ralph Richardson was born in 1902, John Gielgud in 1904 and Laurence Olivier in 1907. Theirs was a lucky generation, too young to have their lives destroyed by the First World War and too old to have their youth blighted by the Second. They rode their luck, and we are still reaping the benefits. Without their vision, the National Theatre might not have been built just before Thatcherism arrived to snuff out the idea that the state could produce anything worthwhile.
